

The Board of Hellenic Society of Cardiology informs you that the 43rd Panhellenic Cardiology Conference will take place on the 20th -22nd of October 2022 in Megaron Athens Concert Hall.

The Conference will provide an enrich scientific program. In this prestigious scientific event selected international authorities in cardiovascular diseases from Greece and abroad will participate in person or digitally. As every year, the scientific program includes presentations of Abstracts (Oral or E - Posters). For the 43rd Panhellenic Cardiology Conference, the Hellenic Society of Cardiology will run an Online service for abstract submission through the link <https://cardio2022.frei.gr/abstract-submission/> .

If you wish to submit your paper, you should do it until 22/08/2022.

For more information you can contact Mrs Metaxa in imetaxa@hcs.gr .

The 10 Best Abstracts will be presented in a special session during the Conference and will be included in a special issue of the Hellenic Journal of Cardiology (Greek edition). We remind you that all the awarded papers should be submitted in the journal according to its guidelines.
